- ❖ we explained in our neighborhood, the steps to follow to help in this great world.
- ❖ We tried their best by giving small examples like ; after washing clothes, use the soapy water to wash the floor, don't let tanks or buckets to overflow, fix the dripping taps etc.

Helping the little flying creatures

What can be done to the leftovers?...simply thrown away???

This food can fill the belly of many hungry birds.

Just keep this food on your roof and let the birds munch it...they will definitely thank you.

Waste segregation

A great benefit of waste segregation is that it makes the recycling process so much easier! If your waste is separated you'll know exactly how and where to recycle it, making the waste management process as straight-forward as possible.

Finally, segregating waste is of course extremely beneficial for the environment. Your waste will go to the correct place and will be disposed sustainably.

THANK YOU
